

HOPE FOR RECOVERY OF INJURED AUTOIST

Wilbur C. Jones Hurt When Machine Crashes Into Street Car.

ALERTNESS SAVES LITTLE GIRL'S LIFE

Clarence B. Hight Wrecks His Car to Avoid Colliding With Another.

Physicians this morning hold hope that Wilbur C. Jones, seriously injured when his automobile was demolished by a Brookland car, will recover.

The extent of his injuries besides severe bruises, is a serious concussion of the brain.

Mr. Jones, who is a member of the plumbing firm of Darnall & Jones, is resting easily, and, although still a little dazed by the shock, is conscious.

The collision, which so nearly resulted fatally for Mr. Jones, occurred at the corner of Thirtieth and G streets northwest at 11 o'clock last night. That he was not killed is considered remarkable, inasmuch as the heavy seven-passenger touring car which he was driving, is this morning little more than a twisted heap of scrap iron and shattered wood.

C. H. Bell, motorman of the Brookland car, was cut about the face and hands by glass flying from the shattered vestibule of his car, but escaped other hurts.

Auto and Car Crash.

The accident happened at 11 o'clock, just as the Brookland car, under the charge of Motorman Bell, had started from the fire stop at Thirtieth street.

Mr. Jones was coming from the direction of Twelfth street, on the south side of G street, and turned to go north on Thirtieth street when he met the car. As the auto and car crashed together the motorman applied the brakes, but the machine was hurled back several feet, overturned and Mr. Jones thrown from the driving seat. The car, with its vestibule shattered from the impact and crowded with women passengers, became a pandemonium. Passengers were thrown to the floor of the car, but none were injured beyond shock.

Traffic was tied up for more than an hour while a repair gang got the wrecked street car to the barns.

Wrecked Car To Save Child.

By quick action, Clarence B. Hight, of the Colorado building, yesterday avoided what might have been a second collision, such as the one in which Jones' machine was wrecked, and incidentally Mr. Hight's action probably saved the life of a little girl, although his own machine was wrecked.

He was coming down Eighteenth street northwest when he attempted to cross Massachusetts avenue. At this point another automobile, operated by a man, whose name is unknown, and who was accompanied by a little girl appeared directly in Mr. Hight's path. Seeing that an accident was unavoidable unless drastic action were taken, Mr. Hight threw his wheel to the right and crashed his own auto into the dash, but escaped with no other injury than a bad shaking up.

Other Auto Accidents.

Several other collisions of a minor nature occupied the attention of the police and the hospital authorities early last night and this morning.

While Captain Holloran, of the Walter Reed Hospital, was driving his automobile near Tenth and Pennsylvania avenue northwest, at 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, he collided with Mark Makashian, a Greek, of 1442 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, throwing the Greek from the wheel, which was dented and slightly damaged. Makashian was slightly hurt, but not so seriously as to necessitate hospital treatment.

The police of the Seventh precinct are today searching for the unidentified man who ran over and injured Howard Burnell, four years old, of 1653 Thirtieth street northwest. The rig which injured the child was drawn by a black horse. The little fellow was playing in the street when struck, and the driver of the outfit did not stop to ascertain the extent of the child's injuries.

Ran Into Barricade.

While driving on the Bladensburg road, near Mt. Olivet Cemetery, late last night, Charles M. Bion, of 1307 C street southeast, ran into an iron stake, used to hold the rope barricade which has been erected along the car track under construction there. His buggy was upset and he was thrown out and slightly hurt. He declares that the red light which should have been on the post was at least six feet away. With him at the time were two women whose names he refused to divulge.

James Johnson, a negro, of 482 L street southwest, driving a two-horse team, and Vergil C. Wrenn, driving a horse and buggy, collided yesterday on Pennsylvania avenue. Neither of the men was injured.

THREE HIGHWAYMEN SOUGHT BY POLICE

Ernest Hugel Reports Being Held Up and Robbed By Trio on the Bladensburg Road.

Three white men are sought by the police of the Ninth precinct today for an attack made upon Ernest Hugel, of 1307 Lamont street, on the Bladensburg road late last night.

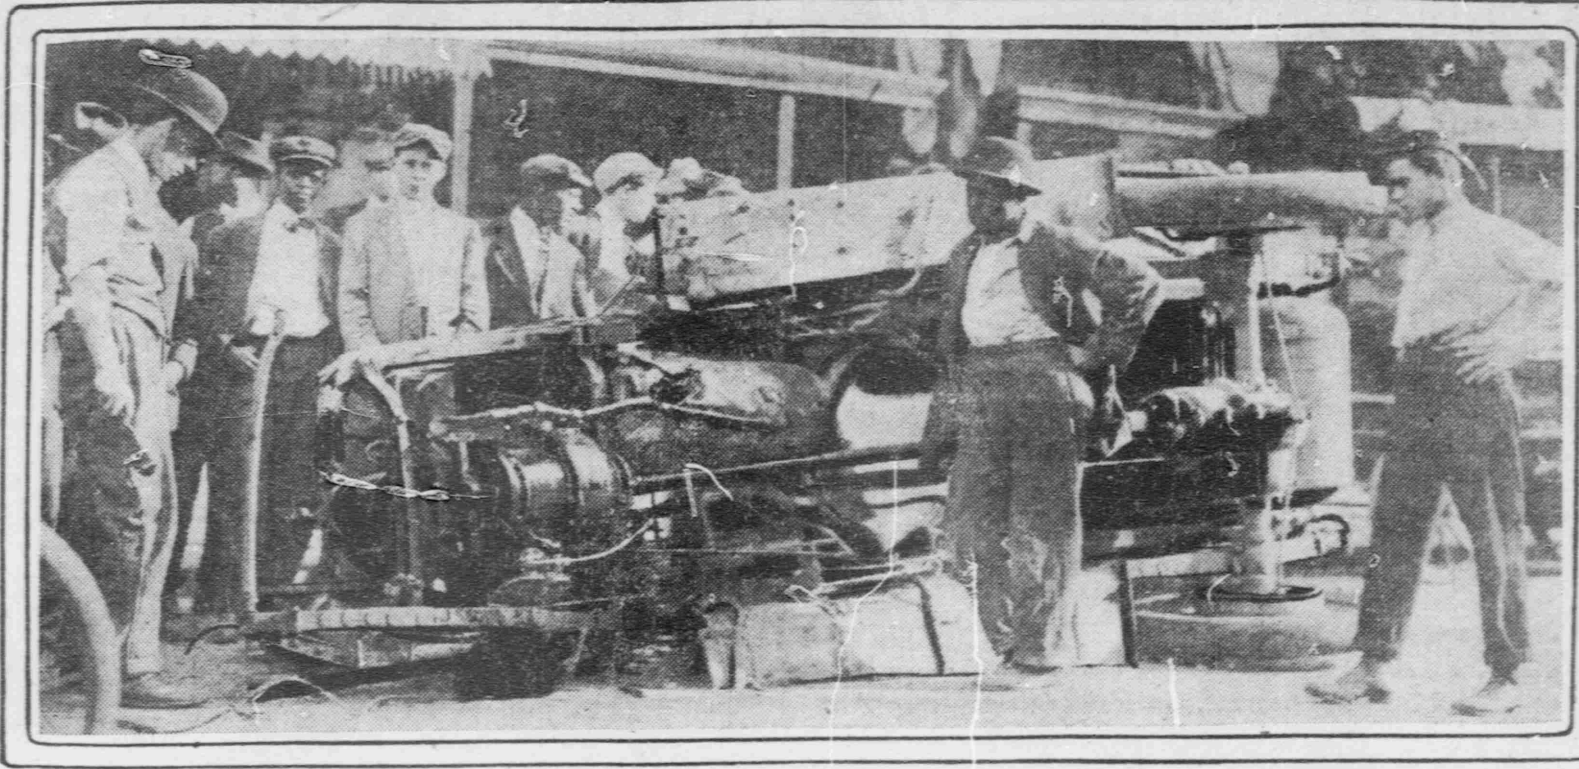

The circumstances of the case almost parallel the assault made upon Dallas E. Bowman and a companion in Judiciary Park a few weeks ago, which was followed by the arrest of three young men who were now in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

Hugel tells the police of the Ninth precinct that he was attending a German supper near the District line last night, and left there about 11 o'clock. When he arrived at a point just beyond Mt. Olivet Cemetery, he declares the men appeared from the brush at the side of the road, held him up and relieved him of a gold watch, valued at $5, and $15 in money. He is unable to give the authorities a comprehensive description of his assailants.

MEETING OF PAINT DEALERS.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 27.—Nearly 1,000 members of the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Dealers' Association are attending their annual convention, which assembled in this city yesterday for a week's session. Numerous trade topics are slated for discussion.

SULTAN LIKES CARS BETTER THAN TAXIS

Prefers Riding on the Electric Railway Street Cars to Autos.

The Sultan of Sulu, whose name has been printed in full in the papers, took his brother and heir apparent, his three worthy advisers, and his one man servant to see the Washington Monument today.

The party was accompanied by Major Hugh L. Scott, who once more assured the newspaper men that the Sultan intended to keep "very quiet." The public has been awaiting for some outburst from his former majesty because of the major's repeated assurances to this same effect.

"I want to act like an American and learn your ways," the Sultan said today through an interpreter. Some time the Sultan overrid the thing. This happened once when the party stepped into an F street car, and, at a guttural word of command from the Sultan, the Zulus pulled off their copys, which is Sulu for hats.

They were told that this custom prevailed in elevators, though some disputed its advisability even there, but it was never done in street cars.

The street car ride was the Sultan's treat and his very own idea. Having tried a carriage, a big sightseeing car and taxi, the Sultan opined he would like to ride on one of the "street train cars," according to a literal translation of his request.

Rides On P. A. E. Cars.

Major Scott considered that this would not too much disturb the quietude of the party so he led the way from the Arlington this morning about 9 o'clock to an F street Pay-as-you-enter-car.

The major had forgotten the P-A-Y-E feature and considerable delay was occasioned until the major counted heads and bought tickets. The Sultan offered to pay inside, but was told that the entrance fee also included transportation.

"You pay for so much in America," he said between two rows of gold-plated teeth. He cast a longing glance at a diamond and one remaining pearl on his left hand.

The Sultan has sold nearly $100,000 worth of his pearls since he started on this trip, and the supply is running rather low.

"There are so many things to see in your city," the Sultan told his interpreter. "I like the Capitol and Capitol."

The Sultan took a trip last evening through the principal streets of the city, and bought tickets. The Sultan offered to pay inside, but was told that the entrance fee also included transportation.

INNOVATIONS PLANNED IN CAPITAL'S SCHOOLS

New Ideas to Be Tried Out in Physical Culture Department.

A number of innovations will be introduced this year in the physical culture department of the graded schools, including provisions for individual examination and instruction. These changes will go into effect when the work in physical culture for this year is begun on October 1.

The co-operation of parents will be asked in the new features, and the matter will be brought to their attention in circular letters sent out by teachers.

The new system will include an individual examination of each child with a special view to physical defects such as spinal curvature, defects in chest, and poor posture. These defects will be recorded upon a card made in tabular form for that purpose, and these cards will be sent to parents with instructions regarding the manner of correcting the errors.

Contrary to the practice of former years the class work will be supplemented by individual instruction after school hours. This individual instruction will also be directed toward any special defects in the child's physique.

In the high school boys must this year submit a rigid physical examination such as that requisite upon entering the Young Men's Christian Association, or other gymnasiums.

Records To Be Kept.

Permanent school records will be made of these examinations, and teachers of physical culture will be instructed to give pupils exercises best adapted to their physical condition instead of making all pupils submit to the same courses, as heretofore.

This system has been used with girls, and has proved so successful that it will be made a permanent feature of the boys' training in the high schools.

Besides the exercises in the graded schools such practical subjects as "How to go up and down stairs," and kindred matters of every-day life will be taught.

CHAMBER DISPOSES OF AVIATION MEETS

The Chamber of Commerce this afternoon disposed of the last aero meet proposition in the field.

Instead of agreeing to the request of the Aero Scientific Club for its endorsement and moral support for the amateur meet to be held at College Park, October 19 to 23, the executive committee of the Chamber decided to offer a trophy to cost not more than $100. What the trophy is to be and what the conditions of the contest for which it is to be given were left to the aviation committee to decide.

Edward H. Young, president of the Aero Scientific Club, appeared before the executive committee and told of the club's plans for an amateur meet, asking the moral support of the Chamber for the project. Mr. Young stated that he did not expect to call upon the merchants for subscriptions or contributions. In view of this the committee did not see any reason why the Chamber should be called upon for its endorsement, but the plans of the local amateurs should be encouraged, and voted $100 for a trophy.

The amateur meet at College Park is now the only aero exhibition to be held in Washington this fall. It is agreed by the executive committee of the Club of Washington and of the Chamber of Commerce that there is not time now to arrange a professional meet before winter.

CALLS CONFERENCE ON CREDIT BUREAU

For the purpose of organizing a credit bureau in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, five national bank examiners were today summoned to Washington by Comptroller Murray.

Those selected to aid in this plan are Frank L. Norris, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Charles A. Hanna, New York; Edwin F. Rorebeck, Chicago, Ill.; Samuel M. Hann, Baltimore, Md., and Percy H. Johnston, of the Kentucky district.

These examiners have organized credit bureaus in their own offices which show the borrowings of every individual, partnership, and corporation above $5,000 from the national banks of their respective districts. It is the intention to extend a similar system over the entire country.

CONSPIRACY AFOOT, DECLARES LAWYER

Mrs. Annie McKee Dudley Said to Be Victim of Plot.

Conspiracy was alleged in the Supreme Court today by attorneys for Mrs. Annie McKee Dudley when a cross-bill to her divorce suit was presented by her husband, John G. Dudley, an attorney and chief clerk of a division in the Pension Office.

"We will show that there is a conspiracy afoot to disgrace this woman," declared Percy H. Velthe, her attorney.

Beyond that statement he would make no explanation, but said at the proper time evidence will be produced to show that the sensational accusations made against Mrs. Dudley by her husband are the result of a "conspiracy."

In the cross bill filed today, Mr. Dudley reiterated the charges made in his answer to his wife's original petition, and named three co-respondents. He also produced the original of the letter that Mrs. Dudley is alleged to have received from a boarder while visiting at Leonardtown, Md.

Chief Justice Claiborne granted Mrs. Dudley temporary alimony of $40 a month pending the suit and also allowed counsel fees. It was stated that such an arrangement existed between Mr. and Mrs. Dudley before the divorce suit was instituted, but had terminated after Mrs. Dudley began her action for separation.

Originally Mrs. Dudley accused her husband of intimacy with several women, and also alleged that he had given an eighteen-year-old girl diamond rings and asked her to marry him. She charged that he had sworn at his mother-in-law.

Mr. Dudley's countercharges have created a sensation although his attorneys said that he had sought to avoid notoriety for the sake of his little daughter, but was forced to defend his character.

ESCAPED PRISONER FOUND ON STREET

Another of the Oceanian fugitives was rounded up this morning and returned to the Brotherhood of Stripes when Detective Howard Vermillion, of the Central Office, captured Edward Marriman. The man, who was found near Fourth and D streets, is under a six months' sentence for being a habitual drunkard.

Marriman escaped from the Oceanian workhouse on the Virginia shore of the Potomac, August 23, and the day following William Marriman, a brother of Edward, took French leave.

Nothing was heard from Edward until the detective recognized him on the street today. He told Vermillion that he was leaving the Oceanian convict camp he had worked in Pennsylvania, but came to this city a few days ago.

GETS PRISON TERM IN $20 DEFAULT

William J. Lee, a telegrapher, who was the defendant in a divorce suit filed by his wife several months ago, in which she made sensational charges, was today sentenced to sixty days in jail in the United States branch of the Police Court, in default of $20.

Lee was arrested last night in front of his wife's house on D street southeast, charged with profanity and disorderly conduct. According to witnesses he was abusing his wife over the divorce proceedings.
